LONDON—Italy today observed the second anniversary of her entrance into the war through an 11th hour declaration of hostilities against a dying France and what Mussolini then thought was a crumbling British empire. But today's communiques, and those for some time past, made it clear that while Italy might observe the occasion there was nothing to celebrate.

VICHY—A motion seeking discharge from prison of Guy La Chambre, former French air minister and a defendant in the Riom "war guilt" trial, has been denied. It was disclosed today. The plea was made on grounds that La Chambre's health is failing. The trial has been suspended while the court seeks further information concerning the defendants.

Germans To Occupy Entirety Of France?

SCRAP RUBBER SALVAGE DRIVE TO START SOON

Congress Building Hopes That Gasoline Rations Will Be Avoided

WASTE MATERIAL SOUGHT

President Will Speak To Nation Concerning Need For Assistance

WASHINGTON, June 10—President Roosevelt today worked out details of a gigantic scrap rubber campaign in which 35,000,000 American householders will be his partners, buoying the hopes of congressional leaders that nationwide gasoline rationing may be avoided.

A senate group led by Sen. Ellender (D) La., contends that 30,000,000 tires can be retrofitted annually with the use of 85,000 tons of reclaimed and 3,500 tons of crude rubber, enough to keep 20,000,000 passenger automobiles in operation.

The whirlwind drive, expected to be completed in two or three weeks, will dwarf the recent aluminum campaign and is expected to find every city, town and hamlet in the nation competing for honors in the outpouring of scrap rubber.

Results of the program will end the conflict among experts on whether there are 700,000 or 10,000,000 tons of scrap available.

At the same time, the President was reported to be assembling material for a radio address on the rubber crisis, which threatens the United Nations with a potential deficit of 5,000 tons at the end of 1943.

To Preserve Tires

The figures being compiled for the chief executive lend support to the proponents of nationwide rationing of gasoline who have advocated this far-reaching step to preserve the tires on the nation's 33,000,000 automobiles.

Much of the information expected to be used by the President was inadvertently made public, however, despite his request that the statistics be carefully guarded until the moment of his anticipated address.

Disclosure of the information came when Sen. Maloney (D) Conn., chairman of the Special Senate fuels committee, made public a report transmitted to him by Price Administrator Leon Henderson the day before Mr. Roosevelt's meeting with his war planners on the rubber and gasoline situation.

The report listed the total 1942 supply, including United States and Russian synthetic production, at 1,241,000 tons and requirements at 813,000 tons, leaving a surplus of 428,000 tons. Counting the carry-over and increased synthetic production, next year's supply was listed at 861,000 tons and the requirements at 866,000 tons, leaving a deficit of 5,000 tons.

Another Cut Necessary

Officials said the figures represented virtually the tightest possible curtailment of military, civilian, lend-lease and United Nations' needs. It was said that (Continued on Page Two)

GOTHAM TAKING MEN UP TO 44 FOR ARMY DUTY

NEW YORK, June 10 — New York City's draft boards already are sending men up to 44 years of age into the Army service and soon will begin calling on those previously deferred because of partial dependency, it was revealed today.

Col. Arthur V. McDermott, local director of Selective Service, estimated that 30 percent of the men now deferred because they contribute partially to the support of dependents will be placed in I-A and inducted when Congress passes the dependency bill before it.

Capital Told That Food May Be Kept From Prisoners By Nazis

WASHINGTON, June 10—Responsible diplomatic sources in Washington today disclosed that Germany is threatening to occupy all of France and to withhold food from 1,500,000 French war prisoners still in German hands unless France agrees to closer collaboration with the axis.

Marshal Henri Petain, French chief of state, is said to be holding out against the German threats in the personal belief that the axis ultimately will be defeated.

The Nazis are reported to be dissatisfied with Premier Pierre Laval because he has been unwilling or unable to force Petain to acquiesce to the German demand that France throw in her lot with the axis.

Unless Laval is able to deliver the goods for Germany in the near future, the diplomatic sources believe he may be replaced by a more extreme collaborator, such as Jacques Doriot, the ex-Communist who turned Fascist.

Laval Would Please

Laval, however, is expected to make a final effort to please the Germans. He is said to be convinced that Germany cannot be defeated. He is so bitterly anti-British that he has said it would be a terrible calamity for France if Great Britain and Russia won the European war.

Laval's hatred for the British also is said to be shared by Admiral Jean Darlan, former premier and now head of the armed forces of Vichy France.

However, informed sources believe that neither Laval nor Darlan will be able, even if they wish, to turn the French fleet over to the axis. The fleet has standing orders from Petain to scuttle its ships if any attempt is made to place control in German hands.

It is felt that at least half of the officers and men would revolt if Darlan ordered them to join the axis.

If the Germans should attempt to move into the unoccupied area of France or to take over the French fleet by force, it is believed that Petain would order the Navy to flee to North Africa. In such an event, it is also thought the marshal would recall Gen. Maxime Weygand from retirement and order him to lead an invasion.

13 ENEMY RADIO STATIONS NABBED BY FBI ACTIVITY

WASHINGTON, June 10 — Spokesman for the FBI disclosed today that 13 enemy-controlled radio stations—capable of sending messages to Berlin or Tokyo—have been seized throughout the United States since December 7.

Although the spokesman did not reveal the locations of the transmitting units, it was believed they were spotted along America's three coast-lines and originally designed to communicate with axis capitals as well as submarines.

Acting in concert with the Federal Communications commission, FBI agents closed one of the last remaining channels through which details of American ship movements and armaments production could be made known to the enemy.

Through its nation-wide monitoring system, which operates around the clock, the FCC was able to pick out the illegal broadcasting centers. Then, by switching the noble monitoring equipment, FCC agents traced the axis information centers to their exact locations. FBI operatives followed through with raids on the stations.

U-BOAT STRIKES ON WEST COAST

American Freighter Sent To Bottom; Attack First Since Early March

WEST COAST PORT, June 10 —Landed at an undisclosed port after their small American freighter was torpedoed and sunk in Pacific coast waters, 56 surviving crew members today gave a graphic account of the attack that cost the life of one of their fellows.

The attack, first enemy action off the Pacific coast since early March, was reported in the nation's capital by Senator Bone (Wash.) to have occurred Sunday off Neah Bay, Wash.

One crew member, Stephen Chance, 76-year-old Negro second cook, died of his injuries and exposure, while two others were hospitalized in critical condition. They are Vern Wikert, 20, an oiler, who was suffering from pneumonia, and Steve Malone, 50, fireman, badly crushed by the torpedo explosion. Both were listed from San Francisco.

The freighter was commanded by Captain Lyle C. Havens, veteran northwest shipping officer. He was in his bunk at the time of (Continued on Page Two)

FIRST AUTO TAX STAMP SOLD; 800 ARRIVE IN CITY

Samuel F. Groom, 422 South Washington street, obtained the first of the automobile use tax stamps that went on sale Wednesday at the postoffice. The stamps for the fiscal year cost $5 and will be sold until July 31.

Eight hundred of the stickers were received by the local office in an initial shipment with more to be ordered as they are needed.

State To Replace Old Bridge At Laurelville

Work was begun Wednesday on construction of a new bridge on route 56 near Laurelville by members of the local division of the state highway department. Plans have been announced for the removal of the old wooden structure that has stood over Salt creek for many years.

Under state supervision the wooden structure will probably be moved down the stream several hundred yards to provide a temporary crossing for automobile traffic. Right-of-way disputes are still prevalent and may make it necessary to detour the traffic through Adelphi.

After the structure has been removed it will be replaced with a new steel bridge.

Members of the department have begun preliminary work on the construction that will take several months to complete.

This dispatch was sent from an enemy country, whose motive in releasing news is likely to be propaganda. Axis claims should be credited only when confirmed by American or Allied sources.

TOKYO, June 10—(By Official Japanese Wireless) — Imperial Japanese headquarters in its first announcement concerning the huge air and naval battle off the Pacific island of Midway admitted in a communique today that one Japanese aircraft carrier had been sunk and another heavily damaged.

A Japanese cruiser also was damaged, the communique said. (EDITOR'S NOTE: Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander-in-chief of the United States Pacific fleet, announced that two and possibly three Jap carriers had been destroyed and that one or two others had been damaged. According to American accounts of the fray, Japanese losses also included the sinking of a destroyer and damage to four and possibly six cruisers, three battleships and three troop transports.)

The Japanese high command claimed that two American aircraft carriers were sunk, one of the Enterprise type and the other of the Hornet type. (These assertions were entirely unconfirmed. Admiral Nimitz, in announcing that American casualties in the Midway battle were insignificant compared with the Jap losses, said only that one United States carrier had been damaged.)

Referring to Japanese activity against the Aleutian islands off Alaska, the imperial communique asserted:

"A number of enemy positions have been reduced." The Japanese claimed that their operations were continuing.

Aleutian Points Taken (A German version of the Japanese communique put forth a claim that the Japanese had "occupied" several strong points in the Aleutians.)

The communique claimed that 120 United States planes had been shot down in the Midway fighting which began last Thursday and was terminated during darkness between Saturday night (Continued on Page Two)

Robert Betts On 'Hornet'

Concern for the safety of their son, Robert, was felt Wednesday by Mr. and Mrs. William Betts Jr., of Pickaway township, after a Japanese communique announced that an American aircraft carrier "of the Hornet type" was sunk in the Midway island conflict.

Last word they had from their son several months ago was that he was stationed on the Hornet, a new carrier.

However, no American confirmation of the sinking has been received. Admiral Nimitz, commander of the Pacific fleet, declaring that one aircraft carrier had been damaged during the action, but that none had been sunk.

Young Betts entered Uncle Sam's Navy long before the Jap sneak attack on Pearl Harbor and is believed to have been in active service since the nation entered the struggle.

TWO DISPUTES HIT PRODUCTION

Sit-Down Strikes Prevail In Akron And At New Jersey Mill

By International News Service The sitdown type of strike, first introduced in the United States by the CIO when that labor organization was headed by John L. Lewis, today interrupted full production in at least two plants working on war contracts.

The revival of the sitdown strike came at the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. plant in Akron and at Roebeling, N. J., steel mills of the John A. Roebeling Sons Co.

Four hundred women are engaged in the Goodyear sitdown in protest to a company plan to switch from a daily to a piece-rate pay basis. They have ignored demands by the president of the CIO-United Rubber workers union that they return to work immediately.

Roebeling company officials said about 300 men are involved in the steel mill sitdown in an attempt to get a 25 percent wage increase sought by the CIO-United Steel Workers union. If the work stoppage becomes prolonged, 6,000 men and women may be thrown out of work at the company's Roebeling and Trenton plants, officials stated.

AIRPLANE BASE MISHAP INJURES FOUR LABORERS

Four men were hurt, two seriously, and 11 other workmen escaped without injury Tuesday in an accident at the Lockbourne air base in southern Franklin county.

John Cornetta, Columbus, and Kenneth Hansley, Lancaster, are in University hospital suffering from their hurts, and hospital attaches report their condition as "fair."

Two others, Edward Howard, Columbus, and Harold Stebelton, Lancaster, were treated at the hospital then released.

All four were caught underneath building materials when framework of a structure collapsed. Companions were able to raise timbers from them long enough for other employees to remove them.

100,000 NAZIS HURLED AT BIG RED NAVAL BASE

Increasingly Heavy Losses Being Recorded Against Attacking Germans

LENINGRAD AREA ACTIVE

Fight In Libya Reported To Be Going In Favor Of Empire Defenders

MOSCOW, June 10—Germany's third major drive to knock out the great Soviet naval base of Sevastopol raged into its sixth day today with the Nazis suffering increasingly heavy losses as they failed to crack the formidable Russian defenses.

The Russians described the new attack as the heaviest launched by the Germans since start of the five-month siege of Sevastopol. More than 100,000 Nazis were said to be participating in the assault.

Nazi General Von Manstein sent in repeated waves of infantry, tank and artillery forces under cover of Luftwaffe bombers to smash at the Black Sea bastion but each time was repulsed.

"On the Sevastopol front," a communique of the Red army high command said, "the Soviets repelled continued attacks and inflicted heavy losses on the enemy."

On only one sector of the Sevastopol front in the southwestern Crimea, the communique said, over 2,500 Germans were killed.

Death Toll Mounts

The mounting toll of German dead failed to stem the furious thrusts of the Nazis who lost an estimated 45,000 men in two previous futile attempts to capture the naval base.

(German accounts of the Sevastopol campaign said heavy fighting was in progress as the Nazi attackers stormed a number of fortifications. Repulse of several Russian counter-attacks was claimed.)

On other fronts the Soviet communique reported "fighting of local importance" and active reconnaissance operations.

The Leningrad sector was reported growing increasingly active while new fighting flared up on the Bryansk front southwest of Moscow.

MURPHY, JUDGE OF HIGH COURT, JOINS U. S. ARMY

WASHINGTON, June 10—Justice Frank Murphy of the United States supreme court was sworn in as a lieutenant-colonel in the infantry in the office of U. S. Army chief of staff at 3 p. m. today.

Whether the justice, a World War captain who had overseas service, will continue to serve on the high tribunal when it reconvenes next October was not immediately made clear.

The announcement stated that the justice, on induction, would depart at once for Fort Benning, Ga., for an intensive four-months training course in active combat duty and then would take a six-weeks course in the advance school of infantry.

Justice Murphy is 49 years old.

SUGAR HOARDER GOES TO JAIL, ASSESSED $2,100

MANKATO, Minn., June 10 — William Tanley, a soft drink bottling concern proprietor, today was under sentence to serve six months in prison and pay $2,100 fine in the first major sugar hoarding prosecution of the federal government.

Federal Judge George W. Sullivan imposed the sentence after Tanley pleaded guilty to a false statement on his sugar ration registration blank. Tanley admitted reporting no sugar while having 44,000 pounds on hand.

allocations of rubber for civilian needs already have been reduced from the 1942 to the 1943 estimate and another 15 percent cut may be necessary.

The two-year estimates on the rubber situation, it was said, contemplate the use of several hundred thousand tons of reclaimed rubber. Many experts believe that the nation-wide scrap campaign will not produce over 700,000 tons of rubber, the country's present reclaiming capacity for two years.

It was pointed out that the scrap campaign is vitally necessary because the nation's consumption of reclaimed rubber is running at approximately twice the rate of its current collection.

Sensors investigating the rubber situation voiced optimism over chances of working out a plan for retreading and recapping enough tires to keep 20,000,000 passenger cars in operation.

In the Nipponese attack a week ago today against the American base at Dutch Harbor, Unalaska, it was claimed, 14 American planes were destroyed and a transport sunk.

The Japanese high command stated that Japanese forces attacked the Aleutian islands three times, on Thursday, Friday and Sunday.

(Washington announced one air attack had been made on Dutch Harbor at noon last Wednesday (Thursday Tokyo time) and a reconnaissance sortie six hours later.)

BOYS' EFFORTS FAIL TO RESCUE GIRLS IN RIVER

PAINESVILLE, June 10—Two young daughters of Homer Rice were dead today from drowning in Grand river, despite the valiant rescue attempt of 17-year-old Kenneth Cogswell.

Young Cogswell dove into Grand river yesterday and tried to separate Dorothy and Laverne Rice as they struggled in the water, locked in each other's arms, but he was unable to effect the rescue.

The girls had been warned by their father, Homer, not to go wading in the river and he would take them berry picking.

Dorothy, 12, and Laverne, 9, were wading with two other girls when they slipped off into eight feet of water. The other girls made shore safely but the sisters drowned as they clutched each other tightly.

HEART ATTACK FATAL TO MRS. HESTER A. FRANCIS

Mrs. Hester Anne Francis, 72, was found dead in her home at Whisler Wednesday by a neighbor. Acting Coroner B. T. Hedges attributed the death to a heart attack.

The coroner stated that he believed Mrs. Francis collapsed about 8 a. m. but the body, lying on the kitchen floor, was not discovered until several hours later.

Surviving are her husband, Sherman Francis, whose residence is not known; two daughters, Elsie Ridenour, London, Ohio, and Lena Fairborn, Ashland, Ohio; and one son, Emmitt of Canal Winchester.

No funeral arrangements have been made.

Capt. Angus Nichol

The skipper of the British light cruiser Penelope, Capt. Angus Nichol, is shown on his arrival in New York City. His battered and much-patched ship, which underwent a series of bombings by Axis planes in Malta, will be repaired, re-armed and restocked with ammunition in an eastern port of the United States and will then go back to the wars for another chance at the Axis.

dependent movement against the axis in North Africa.

Weygand Removed
Gen. Weygand was dismissed as governor general of French North Africa last Winter at the insistence of the Germans, who distrusted him.

Realization that he remained a trump card in Petain's hands is believed to be one of the reasons why the Germans have not carried out the extreme threats to occupy all of France and starve the French war prisoners.

Meanwhile, the French people are said to be practically unanimously pro-American and to be hopeful that the axis will be defeated.

This was stated by Admiral William D. Leahy, American ambassador to France, who was called back to Washington recently for "consultation."

He said that France at present "is completely submerged under an invasion of barbarians who have seized most of the country's material resources and have destroyed much of the spiritual possessions of the people of France."

The attacks on German soldiers in occupied France and the sabotaging of German trains are not, however, believed to represent any organized underground anti-Nazi movement. They are considered to be the spontaneous outbursts of small groups of patriotic Frenchmen against Nazi tyranny.

According to the indictments the five conspired between January 1, 1941 to December 6, 1941, to collect and deliver to the axis powers, information relating to national defense, "particularly information relating to numbers, personnel, disposition, equipment, arms and morale of the army of the United States."

The charges cover transmission of national defense information to Germany and Japan.

Indicted with Kunze and Vonsiatky were:

The Rev. Kurt Molzahn, pastor of a Lutheran church at Philadelphia.

Dr. Wolfgang Ebell, an El Paso, Texas, physician.

Dr. Otto Willumit, a Chicago physician.

Germans had launched a 200 mile front between Leningrad and the Valdai hills to the East. Some quarters indicated that the Germans may be attempting a drive against the railroad at Volodga, 350 miles east of Leningrad, the route by which United Nations supplies are sent south from northern Soviet ports.

The tide was going against the axis in Libya as the British brought up reinforcements to the Free French division defending the southern end of the defense line at Bir Hacheim. Large-scale axis attacks were beaten off, a middle east command communique declared today.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced that 13 Japanese fighters had been shot down when they attempted to intercept United Nations bombing raids on Lae and Salamaua, New Guinea. Enemy bases at these points were heavily damaged.

Today was the second anniversary of Italy's entrance into the war—an act which President Roosevelt described as "a stab in the back" to a collapsing France. The Fascists are still shouting "Corsica, Nice, Tunisia." But nothing has happened. The occasion may be observed by Fascist Italy but nothing has happened in two years that is a cause for celebration.

The occasion may be observed by Fascist Italy but nothing has happened in two years that is a cause for celebration.

FIVE NAMED BY U. S. IN INQUIRY OF CONSPIRACY

HARTFORD, Conn., June 10 — Five men, including G. Wilhelm Kunze, national leader of the German-American Bund, and Count Anastase A. Vonsiatky, self-styled leader of the all-Russian Fascist party—a White Russian faction—were indicted by a federal grand jury in Hartford today on charges of conspiracy to violate the National Espionage act.

The charges cover transmission of national defense information to Germany and Japan.

Indicted with Kunze and Vonsiatky were:

The Rev. Kurt Molzahn, pastor of a Lutheran church at Philadelphia.

Dr. Wolfgang Ebell, an El Paso, Texas, physician.

Dr. Otto Willumit, a Chicago physician.

According to the indictments the five conspired between January 1, 1941 to December 6, 1941, to collect and deliver to the axis powers, information relating to national defense, "particularly information relating to numbers, personnel, disposition, equipment, arms and morale of the army of the United States."

71,000 WITHOUT HOMES IN AREA BLASTED BY RAF

NEW YORK, June 10—At least 45,000 persons were made homeless by RAF raids on Cologne, and 26,000 in Essen and other Ruhr cities, the anti-Nazi secret radio station in Germany reported today.

The broadcast, which was heard by CBS, complained that the Ruhr cities were given no protection by Luftwaffe fighting planes although "in France our fighter squadrons are sitting around with the fastest and best planes in the world and are under orders not to attack."

The German secret station purports to be operated by a dissident faction of the German army.

Oberhausen and Duisburg were said to have been heavily damaged in addition to Cologne and Essen.

"Residents of the Ruhr district by the thousands are on the streets, with their salvaged possessions in carts or on their backs," the German announcer declared. "Children are unable to find their parents. Women are crowded into emergency camps."

"In Emden there was no fighter protection at all. It was a scandal. Comrades from the submarine arm (Emden is a North Sea base) told how the British flew over without being hampered, coming down to 50 meters to bomb the submarine wharves."

"What are our fighter planes doing? If they were all in the East fighting the Bolsheviks? But there is no idea of any such thing. The slogan is defensive—defensive. Attack is allowed only as a bluff, and even this is not what it used to be."

56 PIGEONS DISPLAYED AT GATHERING OF CLUB

Quite a few interested persons attended the open display of the Pickaway county Pigeon Club held Tuesday evening at the home of Tom Lake when 56 birds representing some 17 different varieties were shown by members of the group. The club members have a total of several hundred birds, including show and utility species.

Martin Hoffstetter, commanding officer of the Circleville CCC camp, was relieved of his post Wednesday when the camp was taken over by members of the local government repair garage.

Hoffstetter has been awaiting word on the arrival of some 300 troops to occupy the quarters but no word has been received yet.

A watchman from the garage will be stationed at the East Mound location until official notice is received on the date of occupation.

the attack after having come from his post on the bridge.

"The torpedo struck with terrific force," Captain Havens said. "It blew me out of my bunk, threw heavy cargo high in the air and broke the ship in two."

He said the vessel sank by the stern within 45 minutes after the attack.

Crew members who were on deck at the time the torpedo struck identified the vessel that attacked them as a submarine, at least three crewmen said they saw the submarine's periscope and conning tower not more than 700 yards away.

The torpedoing, which came without warning, gave time only to send an S O S before the crew abandoned ship, Captain Havens said.

MEN SKILLED IN VARIOUS TASKS NEEDED BY U. S.

In an effort to form an index of skilled workers throughout the nation, the United States Employment Service has been conducting a series of programs in Pickaway county through the local employment office in respect to occupational questionnaires sent to draft registrants. Each Friday some of the men who have filled questionnaires are called into the local court house to be interviewed by C. A. Bennett, this district's head of the service.

Men in filling out their occupational papers are asked to give a personal opinion on the job that they think they are best suited to perform. Also, they list the second best skills that they possess. In many cases the government has discovered that these registrants do not mention jobs that may seem to the registrant as minor but which are vital to the National Defense program.

Through the conferences with each of the men the Employment Service gains a better record of these workers and in a case where a worker is found to have skills that the government needs at the present time he is offered a job in defense industry.

Many persons have been misled to believe that the letters notifying registrants to appear are notices of induction into the armed forces. It is possible for the government to conscript labor in a case where a worker refuses to take a vital job, but this is not the thought behind the series of conferences.

In any case the program is an effort to place men with unusual ability where they can best serve the defense program. To date no men in this county have been drafted into labor positions but several who were found to have the skilled experience have been offered jobs with the government.

THEY'RE GIVING THEIR ALL

Won't You LEND Yours?

All right, America! Let's face it.

We know now that victory may be dear. But we know too that freedom is priceless. And we're in this war to win, no matter what the cost. In the immortal words of John Paul Jones, "We've just begun to fight!"

True, we can't all fight. But we can all help. We can—we must—back the boys in the fighting forces. We can—we must—provide them with the tools they need to finish the job.

They're giving their all—won't you lend yours?

For just as we are counting upon them to keep the aggressor from our shores, they are counting upon us for the guns and planes and tanks they need. These cost money—billions. To help pay the cost, Uncle Sam asks you to lend—not give—your savings. That is the American way, the volunteer way, the Defense Bond way!

Remember that every bond you buy is a blow at the aggressor—that every dollar you invest buys an essential part of some much-needed weapon to protect your home, your freedom, perhaps your very life. Invest to the very limit of your powers, so that, in the President's own words: "No matter how long it may take us to overcome this premeditated invasion, the American people in their righteous might will win through to victory!"

You Get a $25.00 U. S. Bond for only $18.75

FACTS ABOUT DEFENSE BONDS—(SERIES E)

HOW MUCH DO THEY COST? YOU LEND UNCLE SAM	UPON MATURITY YOU GET BACK
$18.75	$25.00
$37.50	$50.00
$75.00	$100.00
$375.00	$500.00
$750.00	$1,000.00

When is maturity? Ten years from the time you buy the Bond. If you need the money before then, you can cash the Bonds at any time after 60 days from their issue date. A table of cash-in values is printed on each Bond. Naturally, the longer you hold the Bond, up to 10 years, the more money you'll get back. But you'll never get less than you put in.

What's the interest rate? When held to maturity, the Bonds yield 2.9% per year on your investment, compounded semiannually—you get back $4 for every $5.

Where do I go to buy a Bond? To your local Bank, Post Office, Savings and Loan Association, or other Defense Bond Agency.

What about Defense Stamps? Buying Defense Stamps is a convenient way of saving money with which to buy a real Defense Bond. Stamps are sold for as little as 10¢.

When should I buy a Bond? Start now; buy regularly. If your company has a Pay-Roll Savings Plan, take advantage of it NOW. INVEST IN SAFETY—WITH PERFECT SAFETY!

Remember—You can start buying Defense Bonds by buying Defense Stamps for as little as 10c

- 10 cents in Defense Stamps buys 5 cartridges.
- 25 cents in Defense Stamps buys a soldier's mess kit.
- $1.50 in Defense Stamps buys a first-aid kit.
- $2.00 in Defense Stamps buys a good warm blanket.
- $10.00 in Defense Stamps buys 2 steel helmets.

DESTROYERS DESTROYED

HELL rains from heaven these days and nights, on the Nazi enemies of civilization and upon their works. The tables are turned indeed from the days when that fiery hail of German bombs brought ruin and death to British cities. The hunters have now become the hunted; the destroyers themselves, and their deadly instruments of aggression, are being destroyed.

London and the other British cities that took such terrible punishment are repaying the enemy in kind. What Britain suffered before she was fully armed is now being poured on Germany's great industrial cities. Cologne is a smoking ruin, whose citizens have fled in terror and whose factories are now powerless for harm. Essen and other cities of the Ruhr basin are smashed down one after another. The great seaports have their docks destroyed.

American arms have the honor of helping in the righteous task of putting down Hitler and the pliant militarists who have made themselves the enemies of civilization. Soon American flyers will be winging their way alongside of their British brethren to finish the job and drive Prussian militarism and Hitlerism from the earth. After such cleansing, if the Allies hold true to their present principles and purposes, we shall have a cleaner, sweeter and more rational civilization.

GAS AT NIGHT

A MAN who recently had occasion to drive about 300 miles from one mid-western city to another at night warns other motorists not to start out in the evening without full tanks of gas. He found only five gas stations open in the whole distance. In one small city, 44 out of 62 stations had suspended business entirely. The one country station which was open was at a small all-night restaurant. The cook said he didn't have enough gas business to warrant keeping a man to run it, but by keeping the kitchen and gas pumps both going, he could encourage truck-drivers to stop for both — food for man and drink for truck. Thus he got along.

The driver also reported that trucks made up nearly all the night traffic he saw on the roads—pleasure cars were very few and far between.

The normal human situation seems to prevail in the gas matter as in others. A few noisy voices are yelling all over the place about how wicked the rationers are, how they think there's something "funny"—meaning mysterious and sinister—in at-

WORLD AT A GLANCE

General Marshall

UNCLE SAM'S army command seems to have surrendered almost unconditionally to aviation. Any way, General George C. Marshall, who, as our chief of staff, ought to be able to speak with authority, addressing this year's graduating class of West Point cadets the other day, urged every single one of the group's 374 members to enter the air service. It was to have been expected that he'd ask for a fair percentage of 'em, but the entire outfit—that was going some.

At such a rate, why won't our army consist exclusively of aviators before many more West Point classes have been graduated? General Marshall appeared to imply that, if so, it'll be satisfactory.

He didn't deprecate preliminary West Point training, because, he explained, there are "military intangibles" that a flyer needs to be familiar with, in addition to the technique of plane operation over an enemy terrain, but it evidently is his judgment that the intangibles' essential purpose is to lead on into the vital "tangibility" of super-competent airmanship—just as any kid requires some primary instruction to fit him for subsequent adult activities. They're mere reading, writing and 'rithmetic, though, in comparison with what's to follow. I've had occasion before to refer to army and navy men's comments on the plane's possibilities.

Limitations?

They conceded that aviators are indispensable observers, frightfully destructive raiders and, both as scouts themselves and in certain cases, as combatants against landings and seamen. But they've maintained that the skyhoppers can't land in a country and occupy it permanently, that they can't swoop down on distant targets without carriers to take off from, that they can't transport supplies in adequate quantities to keep a foreign invading force, under their own colors, in action.

Now, aviation development has begun to deflate this idea. Chairman Donald M. Nelson of the War Production Board is establishing an Air Carriers committee that'll evolve a plane equal to carrying freight and ammunition almost without limit—to anywhere.

Heretofore a plane's been rated as good for carrying a small crew and a few handfuls of bombs adequate to fret a small spot on the landscape. Such raids have had their morale effect, maybe—but not the military kind.

Yet a morale raid can have its military reaction. It's obvious in Japan. Current dope is that U. S. Aviator Doolittle has given the Japs the jitters. True, they can slap back at us. It's predicted, But we're fireproof, if they drop matches on our industries. Their factories are as frameworkly combustible as pine shavings. But our planes?

Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON AND ROBERT S. ALLEN

ADMIRAL KING'S ORDER

WASHINGTON — Behind Admiral King's forthright order slashing Navy red tape fifty percent and ordering more navy officers out of Washington, was an interesting comparison with the Japanese Navy, conducted backstage by some of the President's advisers.

Americans, recently familiar with Japan, have reported that the Japanese Navy is staffed by only about 1,000 personnel in Tokyo. In contrast, the Navy Department in Washington has more than 30,000—not including the navy yard.

The Japanese Navy also is reported to have cut red tape and government reports to the bone, and it gives widest latitude to commanders at sea. The U. S. Navy also gives wide latitude to commanders in distant posts, such as Admiral Leary in New Zealand, Admiral Nimitz at Pearl Harbor. But in home waters, especially in anti-submarine warfare along the east coast, insiders say the Navy has suffered from a constant stream of reports and orders to and from Washington requiring a tremendous staff for the paper work alone.

Now Admiral King offers promotions to officers who will decrease their Washington bureaus rather than increase them; who will write fewer instead of more reports; who will provide more personnel for fighting instead of red tape.

GASOLINE CZAR

The one-man dynamo who runs the gas rationing system of the U.S.A. is a preacher's son and a former professor of economics. Though one of the most harassed men in Washington, he is constantly on the verge of breaking into a broad smile.

Only 35 years old, he has grey hair about the ears, thin hair on top, works so late into the night that his wife, mother of a new-born boy, seldom sees him. "I generally make the two a. m. feeding," he says.

Joel Dean was born in Vermont, schooled in California, and has a doctor's degree from Harvard, where he wrote a thesis on small loans. He spent a year as European manager of a travel bureau, two years as traveling salesman for International Business Machine, and seven years as teacher and research expert.

As a fellow economist, he always admired Leon Henderson, but never met him until he came to Washington less than a year ago.

To effect his own economy in gasoline, he formed a "Drive-In Club" with four other OPA officials. They take turns driving to the office from Arlington, Va., across the river.

When the brickbats fly in the OPA office, Dean recalls that his father, a Contempts of the authorities to find out how much gas people really need and to keep enough in all regions so everybody gets a fair share.

Meantime, the majority of American good citizens are quietly cutting down their use of gas and rubber, doing their bit, helping to win the war.

Research May Find Hope for High Blood Pressure Cases

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

I AM IN receipt of a little book, one of a series published called Help Your Doctor To Help You When You Have High Blood Pressure. It discusses in a helpful and sensible way such subjects as what causes high blood pressure, the symptoms of high blood pressure, Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

what is normal blood pressure and treatment. Under causes of high blood pressure a great emphasis is put on heredity, although this operates in quite a hit and miss fashion.

May Be Permanent

One sensible paragraph begins: "Patients with hypertension often keep going from doctor to doctor asking for some treatment that will knock the pressure down, but it is doubtful if they ever get much benefit from the drugs that are taken, because even when the pressure is lowered for a while, it usually soon goes back up to where it was before. The point to be remembered is that if one has high blood pressure of the essential type one is likely to have it for all one's days."

In reviewing the subject of high blood pressure recently I found that surprisingly enough nobody knew the incidence of high blood pressure. By this I mean nobody has ever recorded how many people at the age of 50, for instance, have a blood pressure of over 150. There was plenty of work to show what the average blood pressure of a group of people at the age of 50 was, but not the incidence of hypertension.

The only information we have is the report of the insurance companies which did not represent a cross section of the entire population because insurance applicants obviously are people who think themselves in good health. In order to supplement this, with the help of some of my doctor friends I gathered together about 2000 records of people at all ages, most of whom were sick enough to consult a doctor.

We took the figure of 150—systolic blood pressure—as being the upper limit of normal. We found that over 40 per cent of people aged from 50 to 54 had a blood pressure of 150 or over. This would indicate that high blood pressure is a physiologic rather than a diseased condition—simply a part of the aging process.

This would also indicate that drastic measures to reduce blood pressure are not likely to have much success. The treatment recommended in this little book consists of general measures for reducing the pressure of life, particularly getting plenty of rest and plenty of sleep. The diet recommended is liberal, including everything from meat to starches. Drugs are not advised except in special cases.

Future Prospects

The last paragraph is called "Is There Any Hope on the Horizon for Persons with Hypertension?" The belief is expressed that from the amount of research work which is now being done, in the near future some method will be found effective in lowering pressure and preventing the high blood pressure of middle age. "Sufferers with hypertension must not, then, get too discouraged, but must cling to hope."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

P. R. G.: A 17-year-old girl wants to have her nose remodeled. Is such an operation dangerous? Are pills or tablets given to one who lacks thyroidin? I was under the impression that the hormone taken orally would be destroyed by the digestive juices before the drug entered the blood stream.

Answer: There is no reason why a remodeling operation on the nose should cause any permanent trouble. The proportion of success in such operations is very high among skillful operators. Thyroxin is one of the few hormones that can be taken by mouth and is not destroyed by the digestive juices.

You Are the One

by ADELAIDE HUMPHRIES

WRITTEN FOR AND RELEASED BY CENTRAL PRESS ASSOCIATION

CHAPTER FORTY-ONE

"THAT WAS what she told me," Tommy said to Steena later that same evening when Tibby had told him she was engaged to Wayne. "She said she had been engaged to this Courtwright lug—a man much too old for her—and as I told her, afterwards, a man she is marrying just for his money—so you see the whole thing was no use. That's why I'm calling it off—and I MEAN IT."

Tommy had decided he was man, not mouse. He had decided he would make an end to this campaign and bargain. He had begun by absolutely refusing to go to the Jerome Davenport to be looked over by Steena's mother and stepfather. He had entrenched himself firmly in a chair in the apartment after Tibby had gone out and Steena had come in, refusing to budge.

"But Mother is expecting us!" Steena had insisted. "What will she think? What will everyone think? You simply cannot do this to me, Tommy Dare." Her green eyes were bright with anger, her mouth trembled. "You let me put that announcement in the papers." She had cut it out and mailed it to Wayne, so as to be sure that he would not miss it. She had thought it would wake him up, if nothing else did, even though Tommy claimed now that all the time Wayne already had been engaged to Tibby. "I don't believe it," Steena repeated stubbornly. She would not believe what she did not want to. "Something else will happen—you just wait and see."

"I'll wait," Tommy said grimly. It looked to him as if enough—too much—had happened as it was. "I'm sorry, Steena." You would think HE had made her put that crazy thing in the papers. "You'll simply have to say it's all off. What did it make what people think?" Tibby had believed it—and was going to marry someone else, since they—she and Tommy—had parted in anger. After he had told Tibby she was marrying for money a man old enough to be her father and that he would not wish her happiness he knew she could not expect, Tib had sailed out of the room and when she had sailed through again she had not so much as looked at him.

Everything was over, forever, no matter what he could do, or say, or hint now.

That was why Tommy refused to go on any longer.

Steena said coldly, "You certainly are being chivalrous." If it were true that Tibby was wearing a ring, the way he had described it—maybe Steena would have to begin to believe it.

Tibby had never thought Tommy very chivalrous anyway. He said again, "I'm sorry," but he said it just as firmly as ever. He did not mean he was sorry about Steena. Pretty soon she would have him believing the whole crazy idea had originally been his. Since she was so good at ideas, she could think up a few others. "You can say anything you want. Say you jilted me. Say I decided to enlist in the Army. Say your mother and stepfather would not have me in the family, after they looked me over. I don't care what you say, only I'm not going on saying things that aren't so, acting things that aren't true, either."

He did not know what he was going to do. Maybe he would enlist at that. He had hoped to gain at least this year's experience in the clinic so that if the time came that America actually got into this world-wide war he could enlist as a doctor. Doctors would be needed. It would be a terrible war, worse than any other.

"Very well," Steena said it was no use. This time Tommy's will was stronger than hers, his determination firmer. She was tired of all the small deceptions and schemings, too, tired of trying to make Wayne come to heel, because, if all his attentions, all his kisses had meant nothing, what was the use? You couldn't MAKE a man marry you, no matter how clever you were, how beautiful. If you succeeded you would not want him unless he found he really wanted you. Steena did not know why she would say to save face, but she would say something. She did not know what she would do, either, now that she found it was Wayne she had wanted, and not his millions.

She had thought, like Tibby, that she could keep out of and away from love. It seemed to lead to so much trouble. She had thought she could set her own pattern, choose her fate, steer the course she wished by whatever star she picked. It seemed she could not; no one could. There was Marg, for instance. Steena had blamed Marg for breaking the rules, for losing her heart and not using her head. She had not given her any pity or understanding, but she had not, as she supposed Marg believed, gone to Captain Mercer's wife with the rumors that had caused Mrs. Mercer to go to the company and later still, the captain to resign and sail for Hawaii.

That had been the work of Miss Picklepus, as the girls called the chief hostess. It was not very pretty work, not any prettier than the petty things that Steena herself had been up to. She had felt them justified, that all was fair in love and war.

No wonder Wayne did not love her; being so experienced, he probably had seen through her. He probably had realized she had hoped to marry him for his money, although he could not know that the love she had been wiped out, replaced by the love she felt for him now that it was too late to do anything about it. She would not do anything more; she, as well as Tommy, was through. She would wait, too, although there was little hope in her heart, since she felt—as well as Tommy and Tibby—that everything was settled.

It might have been settled—had not the following Sunday been December 7, 1941, a day to go down in history, a day when a new slogan was born, a day to affect the individual lives of everyone, to change the course of their patterns, the course of the entire world.

On that Sunday, the Japanese struck, even while their diplomats were talking peace with our president in Washington, while the world waited, hopeful, in spite of the ugly, mounting rumors, that peace might be preserved.

REMEMBER PEARL HARBOR—that was the slogan stamped indelibly on every American heart, written in the annals of history for all time to come.

America had been attacked. America declared war the following day in President Roosevelt's dramatic, soul-stirring speech, heard all over the world by radio, in every home in the United States, in many homes across the seas. It brought hope to all those little assailed countries with their enslaved peoples, uniting all people, everywhere, whose hearts believed in freedom and democracy, and whose minds believed in God.

Marg was the one who chanced to tune in, that Sunday mid-afternoon, to hear the first broadcast of that fearful, unjustified and cowardly attack. This news struck closest to her heart, since Captain Mercer was there at Pearl Harbor. Hers was the most personal and immediate reaction.

To think that she had sent John to this, perhaps his death! Because of her, he was in the middle of that war he had foreseen in its very beginning. She knew it would be weeks before she would know whether he was safe or not. She knew, too, that if it had been possible, he would have done his part. Even though it might be that he had not played that part unharmed—if death itself had been the price—that was what he would have wished, the way he would have wanted it.

Man's spirit has wings," John had said. His spirit had, she knew. Flying, fighting, that would be John's way to meet and confirm his faith.

When Tibby, and a little later, Steena, came in, they found Marg pale, but composed. Tibby knew, though, that she had heard the terrible news, that she was fearful for the safety, the life of her captain.

"It's war." That was all Marg said, quietly, purposefully—as her country was to meet this same statement, from its president, the next day.

THE EMPHASIS may be placed on purely private, social, domestic, cultural and sentimental activities on this day, judging by the lunar transits in influence. All pertaining to private life may be benignly stimulated, promising much pleasure, gratification and sociability. Also there should be success and profit in all phases of business that concern the more personal life, such as drama, entertainment, art and more practical aspects of domestic or social interest. It might be well to be on guard against petty deceptions, intrigues or irregularities.

Get JAYNE'S VERMIFUGE if you even suspect roundworms! JAYNE'S is America's leading proprietary worm medicine; scientifically tested and used by millions for over a century. JAYNE'S expels stubborn worms, yet acts very gently. When no worms are there it is just a mild laxative. Be sure you get JAYNE'S VERMIFUGE!

ASHVILLE
Maurice Graham and Mrs. Isabel Graham Miles, son and daughter of A. W. and Mrs. Graham here, have just recently moved to their own new dwelling on Wilshire avenue, Columbus.

Miss Eliza Plum teacher of vocal music in schools near Medina is home here for Summer vacation. Has been reemployed there for another school year.

Homer and Mrs. Friend, Columbus, have for a guest this week, Miss Mary Wilkins, daughter of L. D. and Mrs. Wilkins of Ashville.

Karl and Mrs. Reid will be present from here when their son Emerson graduates Thursday at an electric school at Angola, Indiana. He has had a regular course in engineering in this line and has a job awaiting him with the General Electric Company at Fort Wayne, Ind.

"TRUTH OR CONSEQUENCES"
Ralph Edwards, genial taskmaster of NBC's "Truth or Consequences" quizzer, has been signed to appear in the forthcoming RKO musical film, "Sweet and Hot" produced by Tim Whelan, and co-starring Lucille Ball and Victor Mature. The film, which will go into production sometime during the Summer, will feature a hilarious "Truth or Consequences" routine patterned after the weekly air series, with Edwards in his usual role of "consequence" disher-outer.

KAYE RECORDINGS
Two weeks before the Japanese attacked the American continent for the first time at Dutch Harbor, Alaska, Sammy Kaye shipped five recordings of his "Remember Pearl Harbor" song to the Naval Air station there. A request had been made by the executive officer of the base for the recordings because "Remember Pearl Harbor" was their motto.

VENUTA AIR SHOW
Since she received rave notices from all the reviewers who attended last week's opening of Broadway's latest musical comedy, "By Jupiter," Benay Venuta, songstress who plays a lead role in the show, has been approached with several radio offers. She

Thirty-Two Taking Instructions In Emergency Fire Fighting

CLASS TRAINED TO AID REGULAR UNIT IF NEEDED

Acting Chief Robert Wolf And Members Of Crew Drilling Group

PRACTICE RUN IS MADE

Other Members May Sign Up Before Thursday With Department

As a part of Cincinnati's Civilian Defense program, 32 men are holding weekly classes in an effort to provide the city with a huge volunteer fire force to man the four available trucks in case of a war emergency. The group held its third regular meeting Tuesday evening under the direction of Robert Wolf, acting fire chief.

This meeting was the first in which the men actually handled fire fighting equipment following two previous meetings in which they studied the various ways of combating fires. One of the city's old fire engines was pulled out of the house to make a run to a make-believe fire on North Pickaway street near the hospital and the group jumped on the truck and ran with sirens wide open to the scene.

On arrival they released 1,500 feet of hose and joined it into an effective unit that was attached to one of the fire hydrants. A steady stream of water with a pressure of 55 pounds was played on the vacant lot in the area that represented the fire. After putting out the fire the volunteers collected their hose and returned to the fire house where they cleaned the equipment and replaced the hose in the truck in the prescribed manner so that it would be convenient for future use.

Still Chance To Join

Wolf was highly pleased with results of the first actual test run and will hold another class Thursday evening. Anyone interested in joining the force should contact him before that time.

Members of the volunteer unit are Roy Beatty, Charles Boggs, Daniel Bowman, Larry Creager, Robert Colville, Ned Dresbach, Pearl DeLong, Paul Greer, Ray Johnson, John Magill, Paul Kirwin, Ernest May, Frank Marion, Robert Norpoth, Eddie Phebus, Ed Schreiner, Fritz Sieverts, Forrest Storts, Kenneth Robbins, Willard Timmons, Walter Stout, Fred Woodward, Bernard Wolfe, George Gerhardt, Cecil Mancini, Dan McClain, Charles Glitt, Fred Roundhouse, H. B. Conrad, Kenneth Wilson, Mason Young and Ed McClure.

The group represents men who are giving up some of their time to train for the important task of preparing for any possible emergency. Most of the crew has had the first aid and rescue training and will soon have enough actual experience to form a permanent fire fighting reserve.

Other members of the city fire department are aiding Wolf in conducting the program that will prove its value if the city of Cincinnati is ever bombed or attacked.

FACTORY CANNING GREAT AMOUNT OF PEAS DAILY

Production note! With the pea season only a little better than a week old the local Winorr plant has reached a peak by canning some 80 to 100 tons of peas each day. The harvest this year is as good as officials had expected it to be and help is reported to be plentiful.

INCENDIARY BOMBS WILL REACH CITY DURING WEEK

Three dozen incendiary bombs will be received by the Cincinnati Civilian Defense council sometime this week for use in training of air raid wardens, volunteer firemen and other members of the defense corps. Each member of the defense group is required to take at least three hours of fire fighting training and during this time he will be shown how to combat the explosive bombs.

Money obtained from a recent hand concert is being used for purchase of the material that was ordered some six weeks ago. After the various persons taking training have learned the methods used to extinguish the fire bombs, demonstrations will be held in each of the eight precincts that the city has been divided into by the senior air wardens, who will be assisted by other members of the corps, to show the public how the menace should be handled in case of an air raid.

FIRM SHIPPING 100 TONS OF SCRAP METAL WEEKLY

Report from the Cincinnati Iron and Metal Company Wednesday indicated that the local public is well aware of the need for scrap in the defense program.

During recent months the firm has been shipping approximately 100 tons of scrap metal to smelters each week. This figure is an average estimate and dealers have asked that persons refrain from bringing any more paper into the warehouses but instead try to find old rubber of any kind.

The most needed material at this time is scrap rubber.

DEADLINE NEAR FOR PERSONS IN VARIOUS RACES

Race for various offices in Pickaway county in the coming primary election August 11 will be fairly quick, according to present reports.

Friday evening at 6:30 is the deadline for filing nominating petitions.

In the auditor's race, Earl L. Hoffman, Washington township, has filed his papers and Adrian Yates, Circleville, placed his in circulation on the Democratic side. Forrest Short, incumbent, who has been issued petitions but has not as yet filed them, is the only Republican listed for the office.

One vacancy in the staff of county commissioners will be filled at the November polls with Wayne Brown, Madison township, contesting for the Democratic nomination against T. M. Barnes, Circleville. On the Republican ticket, Lyman Penn, Pickaway township, has filed his papers and E. A. McCoy, Washington township, is circulating his and is expected to file soon.

Representative to the state assembly, left vacant when William D. Radcliff entered the Army, will be a contest between two Democrats, Ralph May and Harry Welch. No one else has announced intentions of entering this field.

Mrs. Olivia Hays, North Court street, filed her petition Tuesday for state central committee woman from this district.

Only eight Democrats and three Republicans have filed their papers for positions as committeemen for the various precincts in the county.

Voters will go to the general polls November 3 and decide on the candidate they desire for each office.

JUNIOR C. OF C. STAGES ITS REGULAR MEETING

Junior Chamber of Commerce conducted a short meeting Tuesday evening in Betz' restaurant, with reports of various undertakings being made. Sheldon Mader reported on the meeting with senior C. of C. and council; Glenn Skinner reported that $1,500 in War Bonds and Stamps had been sold from the booth at Court and Main street; a committee comprised of John Heiskell and Robert Timmons was named to seek suitable rooms for regular meetings, and $1 in defense stamps was presented to Eugene Barthelmas.

The club is considering cooperating with two 4-H clubs in War Bond and Stamp sales.

LOCATION CHANGED FOR ONE OF CANNING SHOWS

Canning demonstration for colored women of Cincinnati will be held Friday at the South Washington street WPA recreation center instead of the A.M.E. recreation center as previously announced. Mrs. Leota Sidney, who will be in charge, will have Beulah May Thomas for her helper.
